CAMILLUS

QUALITY KNIVES SINCE 1876

Welcome to Camillus 1990!

As an old decade passes away and a new one begins, we at Camillus Cutlery are taking a moment to look back on the heritage that has helped us get to where we are in the knife industry.

For over a century, Camillus Cutlery has provided a name to depend on for truly fine knives. The Camillus tradition of superb American workmanship, combined with the best materials available, has always passed through the generations... from father to son, craftsman to craftsman, one knife at a time.

We're proud to say that this tradition remains vibrant today. Every knife that leaves our factory is a product of dedicated craftsmen who take pride in the fact that their knives are famous for sharpness, durability, and high quality.

Compare a Camillus knife to any other. From the materials to the blade, the lock to the carefully polished handle, you'll see why, for over a century, those who know their knives have turned to Camillus.

Today, you have more reason than ever before to choose Camillus knives... because we now have four innovative new product lines that offer tremendous versatility and a variety of exciting new features. We invite you to take a close look at our new knives: the patented Double Lok-Back Trapper, the Yello-Jaket™ series, Promaster Expedition Knives, and Peanut Gallery Knives, all featured on the following pages. In fact, we want you to enjoy the entire 1990 catalog. So sit back, put your feet up, and take a look at what Camillus has brought to the 1990's.

Sincerely,

Jim Furgal

SHARPENING

STEAK/CARVING

U.S. Marine Raider Stiletto.

In February of 1942, Japanese forces launched numerous offensive attacks against the United States in the Pacific Theater. Unstemmed, they won repeated victories . . . until a special task force of the U.S. Marines, the Marine Raiders, spearheaded the first ground offenses against this fanatical enemy.

The Raiders, a formidible group of fighters, struck fear into the Japanese. Though small in number, they were a major force in stemming the tide of enemy attacks and launching our country toward victory in the Pacific.

The Marine Raiders used a combat knife called the Marine Raider Stiletto, provided for them exclusively by Camillus Cutlery.

Camillus is now offering 2000 of these highly collectable knives from a limited production run. Each Marine Raider Stiletto has been assembled using components produced from the original World War II tooling.

The Marine Raider Stiletto has a high luster, blued finish 7" blade, a pewter handle, and a USMC etch in 18 karat gold inlay. It comes packaged in a genuine oak display case with a brass plaque.
